Reason for Requested Specialty Care Services

Identify specialty care areas that are not currently/adequately addressed by the behavioral analytic practitioner. Specialty areas currently recognized, but not limited to, are aggression, self-injury, sleep dysregulation, and feeding disorders (see Medical Assistance Program Manual Supplement 16-08 for operational definitions of behaviors associated with these areas). There may be additional specialty areas identified that have the potential to provide significant improvement for the client and their family.

Provide specific and detailed information describing the behavior to include frequency, intensity, and duration of behaviors.

Address any potential for harm to self or others (if relevant).

Documentation of disruption of quality of life for the eligible recipient and their family (if relevant).

Document previous ABA services.

Appendix B
Reference Only
Examples of Goals and Functioning

Example of a goal

Problem Behavior: Class of behavior - Tantrum

Operational Definition: Ella will scream, cry, grab at objects, and refuse to speak, shut down, drop to the floor, and hit her brother with an open and or closed hand.

Baseline: 2x per day per parent report; 3x per 2-hour observation.

Function: Attention /Access to preferred items/Escape

Context/setting: 1-home

Ultimate Goal: Ella will not engage in tantrum behavior, no more than 1x per week during non-therapeutic and therapeutic sessions for 3 consecutive months.

Short Term Goal: Ella will not engage in tantrum behavior during therapeutic sessions, no more than 1x per week for 3 consecutive months.

Example of Functioning Expected to Improve

History of behavior: Parent report Ella has engaged in tantrum behavior for multiple years.

Proactive/Antecedent Tactics:

o Priming: Ella will be primed about what the reinforcers will be and what behaviors are required to earn tokens to cash in on those reinforcers

o Differential Reinforcement of Other Behavior: Ella will earn tokens for not engaging in elopement behavior

o Differential Reinforcement of Alternative behavior: Ella will earn tokens for practicing alternative behaviors to gain access to her needs (use mands)

Reactive/Consequence Strategies:

o Extinction (access and escape): Ella will be returned to the allowed area/proximity and will not be allowed to access any items via inappropriate behavior

Replacement Behaviors:

o Proactively teaching coping strategies, such as taking a break, deep breathes.
